

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
FACULTY OF MEDICINE
Institute for Life Course & Aging

Graduate Research Position – 1 day a week

Pay range $25-$30/hr, commensurate with experience

The Institute for Life Course and Aging is looking for a graduate student 1 day a week from now until the end of April (with possibility of renewal) to work with Dr. Lynn McDonald on research grants.

- Must have an interest in aging
- Must have excellent communication skills and proficiency in verbal and written social science research presentation and reporting
- Must have social science training in research methods, and be proficient in both qualitative and quantitative
- Must have proficiency with computer software such as Endnote, NVivo, SPSS, as well as Word and Powerpoint
- Tasks may include but are not restricted to literature review, bibliography compilation, interviewing and writing grants and reports
- Expertise in working with older populations an asset

Applications will be accepted by EMAIL only. Please send your CV and cover letter to Glenda Richards:

glenda.richards@nicenet.ca